

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT ACCOUNT APPLICATION

Application Instructions

IDA applicants must complete the application entirely, attach copies of all required documentation, and return the application to your IDA Administrator for review and approval.

Applicants should be aware that IDA Program eligibility is based on the income of the applicant's entire household. Household members are defined as those who benefit from shared income and resources and contribute financially to each other's needs and expenses. This includes the applicant, their dependents and other household income contributors such as a spouse, partner, ex-spouse or ex-partner, parents, or other relatives.

The total number of people in a "household" is not always equal to the number of people living in the residence. Individuals may live in the same dwelling, but not share financial resources or benefit from each other's income. For example, two people living in a home as roommates, dividing costs of rent, utilities, and food, but who do not pool resources for savings or shared investments or assets, would not count each other in determining household size or income. In other cases, individuals who do not live together may support each other financially (such as a parent and college student who lives in a dorm) and therefore they are treated as a "household."

Don't forget to sign and date your fully completed application. Incomplete applications will not be considered for approval. If you submit documents at different times, note that everything should be submitted within 30 days of the first document you submit.

If you have questions about these application procedures or the eligibility guidelines and program rules, please contact your IDA Administrator.

Note: Income is only considered at the time of application. If you are accepted into the program and your income increases, this will not affect your eligibility to stay in the program. In fact, we encourage savers to look for ways to increase their earning power so that they can reach their savings goal sooner.

Beneficiary Designation

I understand that I must designate an individual who will receive the balance of my IDA account in the event of my death. I understand that if the beneficiary is a member of my family, all funds in the account will remain. Conversely, if the beneficiary listed is not a member of my family, all matching funds will revert back to the state. A beneficiary, who becomes the holder of an account as an IDA participant, is subject to the same rules and regulations with regard to Indiana’s IDA program. I understand that providing written notice, in a satisfactory form, to the administering agency, may change this designation.
